GLORIA
design by Marc Sadler

Chair
Dimensions: 55 x 56 x h 80 cm (seat h 48)

SLIDE diversifies its materials and production processes, gambling on a furnishing classic - a chair. Marc Sadler's expertise gives birth to Gloria, something truly new in the SLIDE's catalogue: its first chair with a body made of polypropylene by means of injection moulding. Lightweight, colourful and stackable, Gloria features an embossed texture and a powder-coated metal chassis in the same shade as the body.

MOU

Chair
Dimensions: 54 x 51 x h 82 cm (seat h 45)

Another chair, another crucial revolution in the use of materials. The polyurethane used for Mou's body grants softness and flexibility to the seat and the backrest, just like the product's name suggests.

Lightweight, colourful and stackable, Mou features a chrome metal chassis and an opening on the backrest that enhances lightness and manageability.

SWISH
design by Karim Rashid

Lectern
Dimensions: 85 x 65 x h 110 cm

The first ever luminous lectern made by means of rotational moulding.
Its onomatopoeic name recalls nimbleness, agility, fluidity and lightness. Swish matches SLIDE's Koncord stool and comes in several colours, including lacquered finishes.
